– hereinafter "Clero" –

1. Background

Clero is developing a platform for the discovery, organisation and visibility of local groups and communities. Communities can use it to manage their members, organise events and communicate internally.

2. Information about the community

The following information is provided by the Community to the best of its knowledge. Clero may use it in the manner described in section 5.

Active members: _____

As of (date): _____

Basis of the count: e.g. members of the WhatsApp group, newsletter subscribers, participants over the last three months

Intended host on Clero: _____

An active member is a person who has taken part in at least one activity of the Community within the last three months, or who is a member of the Community's main channel (e.g. WhatsApp group, newsletter, membership list).

3. Intended use

The Community expresses its general interest in using Clero from the public launch of Clero in Munich onwards, provided that the functionalities relevant to the Community are available.

The Community intends to use Clero in particular for community organisation, increased visibility, and the coordination of events and shared communication.

In addition, the Community intends to:

- a) take part in a joint onboarding session with Clero;
- b) appoint a host who will set up and manage the Community on Clero;
- c) inform its members once about the Community on Clero within 30 days of the launch.

These intentions are expressly non-binding (see section 4).

4. Non-binding nature

This declaration serves solely to document the Community's current interest in a possible future use of Clero.

It is legally non-binding and does not create any obligation to use the platform, to purchase, to pay, or to enter into an exclusive partnership. Any actual use is subject to product availability, the final scope of features, and a separate agreement.

Either party may end this declaration at any time in text form without giving reasons.

5. Reference use

The Community permits Clero to use its name and logo for reference purposes in external communication, in particular on the website, in presentation and pitch materials, in conversations with potential investors, and in an investor data room.

In this context, Clero may also state the membership figure provided under section 2.

Such use is strictly for reference purposes and may be revoked at any time in text form with effect for the future.

6. Data and confidentiality

No personal data of members is transferred to Clero by signing this declaration. Any later processing of personal data requires a separate and legally permissible basis.

Both parties will treat confidential information exchanged during their discussions as confidential.
